Thanks to the generous support of All In Credit Union, Landmark Park will offer free admission to active-duty military personnel and their families from Memorial Day through Labor Day as part of the nationwide Blue Star Museums Initiative. Landmark Park is taking it one step further this year. In addition to active duty military, retired military and their families can also take advantage of the opportunity for free admission. This includes free admission for the active and retired military and up to five family members.

"As an organization founded by servicemen, we understand the dedication and sacrifice of our military to give their all to a mission, their country and their families," says Kathy Scarbrough, VP of Marketing at All in Credit Union. "That is why All In Credit Union is proud to serve as the signature corporate sponsor for the "Blue Star Plus" program."

The Blue Star Museum initiative is a partnership between Blue Star Families, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Department of Defense and more than 2,000 museums.

Volunteer Spotlight: Annie Ellison

Nine-year-old Annie Ellison is growing up in the house in Columbia where her mother grew up. She raises chickens in her backyard: Easter egggers, F1 Olive Egggers, Barnyard Blacks, and Rhode Island Reds. She and her daddy built the coop. She's taught one of her girls to jump through hoops. She walks another on a leash.

Annie takes horse-riding lessons. She likes to read books about girls who like horses. She wants to be a barrel racer and roper.

She collects pocket knives, like her daddy and her granddaddy. She carries one with her, just in case.

In her spare time, Annie volunteers at Landmark Park. When her older sister, Austin, began volunteering at 15 and still needed a ride, Annie had to tagalong with their mama, so she got put to work, too. Austin is now employed by the park, and Annie looks forward to her turn as a park employee one day. For now, she can be spotted helping with crafts, tending to the park's Plymouth Rock chickens, or informing about reptiles in the Interpretive Center.

She worked the gift shop on Spring Farm Day. When she saw folks admiring the shiny crystals on the shelves, she'd expertly upsell to a geode, "For a dollar more, you can break it open yourself." Miss Penny, who is normally in the gift shop, was out sick, so Annie carried most duties by herself. "Mama and Chrissy didn't do much." She answered the phone, "Landmark Park, this is Annie," and "might have sold a membership."

Good job, Lance and Paige Ellison, on raising this motivated girl who knows what she wants. Landmark Park looks forward to many years with Annie Ellison as one of our own.

To volunteer at Landmark Park, call the park office at (334) 794-3452 or email celeste@landmarkparkdothan.com.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY! Fathers who are accompanied by a child on June 20 will receive free admission to Landmark Park in honor of Father's Day.

Alabama Agricultural Museum Update

Thank you for your patience as we continue to work on the new exhibits in the Alabama Agricultural Museum. Above, the fireplace was constructed by hand inside the museum using rocks (with permission) found in Henry County. The logs on the walls are repurposed from a 200-year-old cabin in Houston County. Volunteers and staff hand-chinked the walls and fireplace using red clay. We can't wait to show you the finished product! Updates coming soon.

Artifact Exploration

Silver medicine spoon, circa 1800s. This spoon was designed to help give patients their medicine more easily and may also have been used for feeding. The spoon is half covered to prevent liquid spilling out while it is being poured into the mouth through the end hole. It may also have helped by preventing the patient from getting too close a look at any medicine they were about to take.

In 1920, Dr. Albert Frasier and Dr. John T. Ellis opened the Frasier-Ellis Hospital on South Saint Andrews Street in Dothan. The hospital served the healthcare needs of the Wiregrass for the next 40 years until Dr. Frasier passed away and Dr. Ellis was ready to retire. The hospital closed in 1960, but soon after, the 30-bed building was reopened as a nursing home. Throughout the 1960s and mid-70s, the former hospital served seniors in need of long term care services. It is now known as Extendicare Health Center.
